Description

Made from recycled material and part of The North Face's Circular Design Initiative, the Glacier is an essential part of every hiker’s kit, a fleece is there to shield you from post-trekking chills and fresh, pre-dawn starts. With the Glacier Full-Zip Fleece, you get a fully functional hiking fleece and a casual everyday sweater. You can rely on it to keep you warm, but it also repels moisture to keep you dry when pacing it up steep hiking trails. Combine it with a breathable waterproof shell for wet-weather protection. This fleece is part of our Circular Design initiative – a collection designed to minimise waste and pollution. Once you're done with it, recycle it back to us to keep the adventures going.
