Description

The Powder 8 Down Jacket is a lightweight and highly packable layer designed for year-round versatility. Ideal for hiking, skiing and everyday adventures, it can be worn on its own in milder conditions or layered under or over a shell for added warmth.Developed for freeride adventures, it combines lightweight, windproof 20D ripstop nylon with premium 90/10 down insulation. The water-repellent outer helps protect against light rain and snow, while the quilted construction keeps the down securely in place for consistent warmth.The regular fit provides room for base and mid-layers, while the longer sleeves help eliminate cold spots around the wrists. An adjustable hood can be customised for a secure fit over a cap, beanie or helmet, making it a versatile choice for changing mountain conditions.
